

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE-4/15/2009
Media Contact: Nancy Moses 301-983-3255

‘Grow It, Eat It’—Attend Free, How-To Gardening Workshop Montgomery County Master Gardener Speakers

Learn how to grow your own vegetable garden or boost the output of your existing garden.

Montgomery County Master Gardeners, a 250-member volunteer organization trained by the University of Maryland Department of Agriculture, offers free workshops now on growing fresh, healthy food. Whether you are a novice or seasoned grower; whether you have a couple of acres or a patio, you will gain new skills. See demonstrations and hands-on activities for planting in your garden or containers.

The following classes are scheduled in Montgomery County. For registration and course information, please contact Erica Smith (mc.growit@gmail.com), Montgomery County Master Gardener, Grow It Eat It Coordinator. For more gardening information, visit www.growit.umd.edu

Free Workshops: Grow Your Own Veggies:

Monday, April 27. 9:30-11:30 AM. Potomac Community Center, 11315 Falls Road, Potomac MD.

Tuesday, April 28. 7-8:30 PM. Damascus Library, 9701 Main Street, Damascus, MD.

###